

Delaware Emergency Management Agency
State Homeland Security Grant Program

DE Information Bulletin Number 14
January 20, 2006

TO: All Delaware Homeland Security Grant Partners

FROM: Jamie E. Turner, III
Director

SUBJECT: Electronic Resource Availability

In an effort to provide our customers with the most current and accurate information available, the use of electronic resources is becoming more of a necessity. We at the Delaware Emergency Management Agency are therefore providing this quick reference guide to on line resources that will keep you informed of all current bulletins, directives, and changes to the Homeland Security Grant Program.

Delaware Emergency Management Agency (DEMA):

The official DEMA homepage contains information and links to a multitude of terrorism preparedness and emergency management websites and resources.

<http://www.state.de.us/dema/default.shtml>

Homeland Security Grant Program Guidance:

This link provides access to the FY2003-FY2006 Homeland Security Grant Program guidance. All files are in PDF format.

http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/odp/grants_programs.htm

Office of Domestic Preparedness Information Bulletins:

The Information Bulletin library contains over 200 bulletins from the last three years that contain updates and guidance on Homeland Security Grants.

<http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/odp/docs/bulletins.htm>

Responder Knowledge Base:

The Responder Knowledge Base contains the Authorized Equipment List, training and certification information, and an ask the expert section. The first time accessing the site, you must set up an account.

<http://www1.rkb.mipt.org/>

Office of Domestic Preparedness:

This is the official website for the Office of Domestic Preparedness.

<http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/odp/>

Lessons Learned Information Sharing:

The Lessons Learned website features best practices and after action reports from exercises across the country. A log-in must be obtained the first time accessing the site.

<https://www.llis.dhs.gov/>

Delaware Division of Public Health:

The Division of Public Health website features links to healthcare emergency preparedness, vital statistics, and healthcare programs available across the State of Delaware.

<http://www.dhss.delaware.gov/dhss/dph/index.html>

Centers for Disease Control (CDC):

The CDC website offers a wealth of information from current news on pandemic flu to links on emergency health preparedness.

<http://www.cdc.gov/>

Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA):

The official website of HRSA. The website contains links to the HRSA grant program as well as information pertaining to a multitude of healthcare resources.

<http://www.hrsa.gov/>

The aforementioned websites are for informational purposes only. The Working Group and Discipline Leads will still be informed by DEMA of changes to the grant as the information is released. If there are any questions, please contact Ed Durst at Edward.durst@state.de.us or at (302) 659-2249.